1. The literature survey is not a paper-by-paper summary. It should demonstrate:- Read → Understand → Categorize → Compare → Critically Analyze → Identify Gap → Define Research Direction.

2. Please prepare your report as a short IEEE conference paper, up to the page limit of 2 to 4 pages in double-column format, should be followed to prepare this report.

3. Include the following details briefly in your report: (Please note that below structure is suggested. You may follow your own structure as well. Mandatory points to be included are highlighted):

    a. Title of your project
    b. Brief Introduction that precisely include:
        i. Background
        ii. Motivation
    c. Research Problem
    d. Objectives of the Literature Survey
    e. Literature Search Methodology that includes information about Databases, important keywords f. Detailed Review of Existing Literature (minimum 3 methodologies from the literature need to be studied and included), namely, Approach 1, Approach 2, and Approach 3.
    g. Comparative Analysis of the reviewed approaches
    h. Critical Analysis of the reviewed approaches
    i. Research Gaps must be addressed
    j. Proposed Research Direction must be addressed
    k. Preliminary Research Questions
    l. Conclusion
    m. References

4. Prioritize:

    - Recent high-quality journal papers
    - Relevant top-tier conference papers
    - Highly cited foundational papers
    - Systematic reviews/surveys
    - Papers directly related to your research problem

5. This is the last chance to update the research topics if, after the literature review, you find your topics to be not interesting. You need to update the same to TA's - Jaya Shukla or Shambhavi Bhardwaj, with CC'ed to me Dr. Nazil Perveen. No further changes will be accepted after you submit your preliminary reports.

6. If you want to change the group, please do it before your preliminary report submission. Inform the same to TA's with CC'ed to me.

7. Plagiarism Policy: Plagiarism will strictly not be tolerated. In case the code submitted by a group is found to have been copied from another group, then both groups' submissions will not be considered, and 0 marks will be awarded. No exceptions will be made.
